CHARLOTTE: A FILM SCREENING AND DISCUSSION ON LOVE, LOSS, AND THE EVER-CHANGING HUMAN CONDITION

February 24, 2022
10:30 am - 12:00 pm
via Zoom

Presented by: Allison Wolff, Filmmaker, Donna Kane, MA, CT, Grief Clinician, Jewish Community Services, and Claire Fultz, Director of Mental Health, Jewish Community Services

Charlotte (2018) is a silent, dramatic film that explores the inner and outer uncertainty that comes with grief and bereavement. During this program, participants will view the short piece and engage in a moderated, thought-provoking conversation with the filmmaker. Students, filmmakers, clinicians, and community professionals are strongly encouraged to attend.

As a result of this training, participants will be able to:

- Discuss the relationship between identity, taboos, and grief and the impact they have on individuals
- Discuss the use of film as both a medium for expression and social practice and a direct support to individuals as part of clinical intervention
- Apply concepts from the film to work with individuals in a clinical setting, focusing primarily on how to speak honestly and directly about grief and bereavement

General Public - $37.50

Teachers from Jewish Day Schools/JCS Retirees - $30.00
